

Wanda L. Scott

Author | Speaker | Educator

Are You Looking for a Captivating Speaker?

Wanda L. Scott has been captivating audiences for over 15 years. Her dynamic and inspirational speaking will encourage, educate and empower you & your organization.

Partial Client List:

◆ DogFood Conference	◆ Music City Code 2017 & 2018	◆ SD Expo 2018	AWS re:Invent 2018
◆ Dell (Nashville)	◆ Congressional Black Caucus (CBCF)	◆ Blacks in Government (BIG)	◆ Nissan North America

SPEAKING TOPICS:

◆ Leadership	◆ Relationship Building	◆ Developing Resilience
◆ Women in IT	◆ Diversity	◆ Effective Communication

Wanda L. Scott believes that the greatest statement we can make is to love one another. As an accomplished Author with multiple books, her desire is to tell stories of what is possible when we search deep within by the power of God to be GREATER! She models how to maximize laughter, love and valuing each person we are in relationship with. As you listen to Wanda speak you can hear her heart for people as she uses the real-ness of life, with a splash laughter and a huge dose of hope to reach you where you are. You must experience this seasoned educator creatively weave together knowledge to energize and challenge her audience. Whether Wanda is at a conference speaking to thousands, teaching bible study, or leading a group to feed the homeless in her community, Wanda will Educate, Empower & Encourage you.

Request Wanda L. Scott to speak at your next Event Today!

www.WandaLScott.com ~ wanda@WandaLScott.com

PH (615) 542-8842

SPEAKER | EDUCATOR | AUTHOR

Wanda L. Scott believes that the greatest statement we can make is to love one another. As an accomplished Author with multiple books, her desire is to tell stories of what is possible when we search deep within by the power of God to be GREATER! She models how to maximize laughter, love and valuing each person we are in relationship with. As you listen to Wanda speak, you can hear her heart for people as she uses the real-ness of life, with a splash of laughter and a huge dose of hope to reach you where you are. You have to experience this seasoned educator creatively weave together knowledge to energize and challenge her audience. Whether Wanda is at a conference speaking to thousands, teaching bible study, or leading a group to feed the homeless in her community, Wanda loves as she leads.

Throughout Wanda's career she experienced constant growth, forward movement and change. Corporate America sharpened her Leadership, Customer and Training skills. She has worked with customers in the area of Technology and Account Management in large corporations, such as Bridgestone and Microsoft to government agencies such as the IRS and U.S. Department of State.

Then Wanda knew it was time for a change, even though everyone thought she was crazy to walk away from such a demanding, successful and lucrative career at Microsoft. So Wanda leveraged her previous experiences and took them into the college classroom as an Assistant Professor in Computer Networking. Her passion for education demanded excellence in her classrooms setting a standard for curriculum that pushed past just computer networking knowledge, to demonstration of communication and collaboration skills needed to be successful in corporate America. During this 2nd phase of her career, Wanda also recognized the need to mentor, encourage and champion the call for Women in IT; organizing student groups at her college and speaking at Technology conferences on resilience and diversity. This exposure along with the growing number of published books propelled Wanda out into full-time entrepreneurship. Once again Wanda redefined herself walking away from the comfortable to pursue "GREATER".

Now Wanda travels, empowering, educating and encouraging others with practical experience on how to communicate, lead, transition and redefine YOU. When she was in the greater Nashville area she used her passion for higher education within community organizations providing College Preparation courses spanning from Digital Literacy to Study Skills, and developing curriculum to train High School students in Tech Camps. She also uses the skills she has developed to do training for corporations like Nissan.

Wanda knows how to reach an audience and can coach others with vigor preparing them to realize their dreams empowering them on practical ways to MOVE toward them. Wanda L. Scott knows how to educate and will captivate you with her dynamic and down to earth delivery.

Wanda is also an Author of several books on relationships and diversity.

www.WandaLScott.com

Wanda L. Scott

